Optional declaration if you don't usually receive a form from your tax office.

If you're a UK taxpayer, you can claim the tax back on your IOL subscription payment.

Under Section 201 of the Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988, subscriptions paid to IOL are eligible for tax relief as a Deduction for Fees and Subscriptions Paid to Professional Bodies.

If you receive a tax form each year, then you should declare your IOL subscription as a tax-deductible expense. If you don't usually get a tax form, then you can use this form to tell your tax office you want to claim. It is also possible to backdate your claim for up to six years (but no earlier than for the year ending 5 April 2003). If you would like us to tell you how much you have paid in subscriptions in earlier years, please email us at institute@outdoor-learning.org

To claim your tax relief, please fill in the details below and return this form to your Tax Office (not to IOL). Your employer will give you the address of your tax office if you don't know it already.
